Washington, DC – Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. (MPAA) Chairman & CEO Dan Glickman will keynote Pike & Fischer's Legal Risk Management in the Web 2.0 World at The AED Conference Center in Washington, D.C. on Tuesday, September 18, 2007.

This unique one-day legal forum will gather the top business and legal minds for ground-breaking discussions of the opportunities and associated legal risks arising from video distribution, social networking, user-generated content, and other Web 2.0 applications. The forum will address monetization, intellectual property protection, privacy implications, and overall risk management in a series of interactive panel discussions and keynote addresses.

Mr. Glickman will appear as the morning keynote and is expected to address the impact of Web 2.0 on the motion picture industry. Prior to becoming MPAA's Chairman & CEO, Mr. Glickman served as the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture during the Clinton administration and served for 18 years in the U.S. House of Representatives representing the 4th Congressional District of Kansas.

Legal Risk Management in the Web 2.0 World will play host to a wide range of Web 2.0 industry experts representing content producers, content distributors, Web 2.0 technology companies, traditional publishers, corporations, government agencies, academia, venture capital firms and law firms. Confirmed faculty to date includes:

- Robert Corn-Revere – Partner, Davis Wright Tremaine LLP
- William Patry – Sr. Copyright Counsel, Google, Inc.
- Rob Dolin – Program Manager, Microsoft Social Networking Team
- David Ardia - Director & Co-Founder, Citizen Media Law Project / Harvard Law School's Berkman Center for Internet & Society
